

BIOGRAPHY

LANCE M. INCITTI, LPC

After graduation from Seton Hall University in 1969, Lance Incitti established a dual career in the Army Reserve and the retail security fields. In the Army Reserve he rose to the rank of Captain and held both line and staff positions at the company and battalion levels. In the retail security industry he held various positions with Macy's, Plymouth Shops, and Saks Fifth Avenue and in 1987 ended his corporate career as Vice President of Loss Prevention for Gimbels New York and Philadelphia Divisions.

Since 1987, he and his wife Ruth have owned an executive search firm specializing in the placement of asset protection and security professionals. In March, 2012 Lance tested for and earned the Loss Prevention Foundation's prestigious LPC designation.

Lance is also an active Kiwanis volunteer and served as the New Jersey District Governor in 1994-95 and was one of eight District Governors designated as Distinguished. In May, 1997 he served as group leader for a joint Kiwanis International and UNICEF mission to Pakistan to evaluate the impact of Iodine Deficiency Disorders and in 2008 was named to serve a three term as a Trustee of the Kiwanis International Foundation. Lance is currently serving as Treasurer of the Kiwanis International Foundation and in the 2012-2013 year he will be President-Elect. He will be President of the Kiwanis International Foundation in the 2013-2014 Kiwanis year.
